The Glendale City election held Monday, April 8, resulted in the election of Attorney Hartley Shaw and C. H. Henry, both of the Tropico district, for city trustee, J. C. Sherer and J. W. Stauffacher re-elected for city clerk and city treasurer respectively.

The vote was very light, only about half of the registered voters recording their preferences at this election. Messrs. Shaw and Henry take the places of Joseph S. Thompson and Charles Grist, who retire from the Board.

GENEROUS OFFER

PROF. HOUDYSHEL GIVES VALUABLE BULBS TO BE SOLD FOR RED CROSS

Professor C. Houdyshel has offered to the Garden Society almost $100 worth of named bulbs, to be disposed of by that organization on behalf of the Red Cross. This magnificent and most generous offer has been accepted by the president of the Garden Society with warmest thanks. Mr. Houdyshel is one of the foremost specialists on the Pacific Coast in the raising of bulbs; he has devoted many years to the production of original varieties, and he is considered a leading authority on this subject. Both the Red Cross and the Garden Society are glad to hereby acknowledge their indebtedness to Professor Houdyshel for his splendid contribution.

ELECTRIC SIGN BOOSTS BOND SALES

A large electric sign emblazoning in the sky the command, "Buy Liberty Bonds Now," is working night and day at the corner of Broadway and Brand boulevard.

This spectacular bit of advertising was made possible through the generosity and patriotic spirit of Paul D. Howse. Mr. Howse is the manager of the Electrical Products Corporation of Los Angeles. We are very grateful to him for this courtesy.

One can not pass that corner without being aware of this patriotic appeal; in fact it is plainly visible from a distance of several blocks. It is a constant reminder of what is expected of us during this Liberty Bond drive. It has been the cause of a great deal of interest and favorable comment at this busy corner.

WAR REVIEW

HINDENBURG, CHECKED AT AMIENS, APPARENTLY PREPARING FOR DRIVE AGAINST BRITISH IN FLANDERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Hindenburg, apparently temporarily checked before Amiens, is preparing a blow against the British line in Flanders.

Field Marshal Haig in his report today described a heavy bombardment on an eleven-mile line between Armentiers and La Basse canal today.

The attack in this sector was entirely apart and separate from the main enemy offensive and it is believed to be intended to forestall the expected allied pressure on the south.

The only other activity reported was enemy artillering concentrated on a seven-mile front astride the Somme..

"Two enemy surprise attacks failed near Eperges, northwest of Rheims (in the Chemin des Dames sector where American troops are holding a portion of the line)," the French war office stated.

"North of Bon Homme German attacks were unsuccessful."

The German long range gun which has been bombarding Paris has been located in Creppy-En-Laonnois. French artillery and aviators are bombing that section continuously.

Another French retirement south of the Oise to a depth of two miles is reported in a statement from the Berlin war office. The French now hold the line in this section on the north bank of the Aillett river at a point near Anizy-Le-Chateau to the Oise.

The Germans claim the capture of 2000 prisoners. The French admit the retirement at this point.

Bad weather is delaying Hindenburg all along the line. Meanwhile the Germans are practicing shooting and conducting barrage fire rehearsals in the Arras sector.

PUT SUBS TO FLIGHT

AMERICAN GUARD ON EL OCCIDENTE ARE SUCCESSFUL IN BATTLE WITH TWO GERMAN SUBMARINES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—After a twenty-minute running battle with two submarines, in which many shots were fired by both sides, the American armed guard on the steamer El Occidente put both submarines to flight, the navy department announced today.

One diver suffered a demolished periscope shot away by a Yankee gunner.

FLYING CADETS INJURED

JOHN ENSINGER AND EARL K. ZIMMS HURT WHEN PLANES COLLIDE ON LOVE FIELD IN TEXAS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

DALLAS, Texas, April 9.—Cadet John Ensinger, 22, of Greenleaf, Colorado, and Cadet Earl K. Zimms were slightly injured at Love Field today when their planes collided in midair. Both are American fliers.

LLOYD-GEORGE SAYS CRISIS IS TO COME

BRITISH PREMIER EXPRESSES HIMSELF AS CONFIDENT OF THE FINAL OUTCOME OF THE COMING BIG BATTLE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, April 9.—Premier Lloyd-George declared in the House of Commons this afternoon that while the most critical phase of the war has lulled, the hurricane is not yet over.

"The fate of the empires of Europe and of liberty may depend upon the success of the final attack," he said.

"The number of prisoners and guns taken by the Germans has been grossly exaggerated by them. These are being replaced by a substantial number of guns and reserves."

"I am confident the army is quite equal to the attack," Lloyd-George declared.

"The appointment of Gen. Foch to the supreme command of allied strategy is the most important feature regarding the coming battle," said Lloyd-George.

SANTA MARIA TORPEDOED

CHIEF BOATSWAIN'S MATE COMMENDED FOR STICKING BY SHIP UNTIL GUNS WERE USELESS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Torpedoed by an enemy submarine February 25, the Santa Maria, manned by an American gun crew, fought gamely until the sea enveloped her forward gun and rendered it useless.

John Webb, chief boatswain's mate, who remained aboard the ship until her guns were useless, was commended for bravery by Secretary Daniels.

SAVE YOUR BONDS

MERCHANTS ASKED NOT TO OFFER MERCHANDISE IN EXCHANGE FOR BONDS

The Third Liberty Loan Bonds will carry interest at 4¼% and be in the nature of Gold Bonds, payable 1928. Interest upon these bonds will date from May 9th, 1918, and applications must be accompanied by the payment of 5% of the amount of bonds applied for or by payment in full. Bonds will be in the same denominations as in last loan—$50, $100, $500, $1000, $10,000 and $50,000. The Government is asking every man and woman in California to do his and her share in the purchase of as many bonds as their conditions permit It is necessary that the purchasers of bonds hold these bonds and consider them as a saving. This is the only way that the full purpose of the Government in the launching of the big Liberty Loan Bond campaigns will be successfully carried out. All merchants, throughout the United States have been requested by Secretary McAdoo not to offer merchandise in exchange for bonds as this defeats the purpose of the Government, and destroys, to a great extent, the saving feature of the Liberty Loan Bond Campaign.

LIBERTY BOND SALES COMMITTEES REPORT GOOD PROGRESS

Yesterday was an exceedingly busy day at the various banks and the Liberty Loan headquarters. The sales committees were everywhere in evidence. They report the work as progressing very satisfactorily to date. While the subscriptions have been coming in very rapidly and there is no doubt that Glendale will make its quota, there is to be no slackening in this work. If Glendale subscribes its quota in the first few days of the drive, why shouldn't we double it before the close of the drive?

The government has asked that everyone who possibly can buy a bond. The fact that "Podunk" oversubscribed its quota the first day does not in the least excuse those of the town who can buy and have not bought from subscribing just the same. The man who does not subscribe because his town is assured of its quota is little more patriotic than the man who has no intention of buying. In some cases people have expressed their willingness to subscribe if it becomes evident later that their purchase was necessary to fill the quota. The Government has asked that we as individuals loan it every dollar possible. No exception is made of the man who happens to live in a community where a few have been willing to carry the whole load or where the quota has been too small. The Government has not said we only want three billion dollars. They have placed it at that amount and asked for every dollar we can loan them. What better support can we give our boys—what better proof of our true spirit—than to loan our government two or three or four dollars for every one they ask for.

The committees all report the most courteous treatment and welcome receptions in practically every home. There have been only a few cases of discourtesy or disloyalty. These can be mostly laid to ignorance. They will be actively followed up.

The statement of the actual amount of the subscription to date will be issued from time to time from the Federal Reserve Banks. They wish to give out only the exact facts. There is danger of slacking of efforts on account of the over-enthusiastic and optimistic reports coming from unofficial sources throughout the country.

RED CROSS JOTTINGS

Knitted garments were piling up Thursday at Red Cross headquarters, where there was quite a stream of visitors all day bearing sweaters and socks and taking away yarn for more work.

There was also a considerable amount of work done in the surgical dressings department, chiefly bandage making. Wednesday Mrs. W. R. Cleveland was the instructor and the workers were Mesdames Edgar W. Pack, A. R. Hildreth, Thomas Wood, C. B. Wilde, W. M. Kimball, Archie Parker, C. L. Bullard, M. T. Field, W. N. Stamps, W. A. Reynolds, Harriet Nichols, Elizabeth Chandler, C. C. Dorrance, O. R. Barnett and Miss Mary Blackburn; 46 paper backed irrigation pads were made on that day.

Thursday Mrs. Edgar W. Pack was the instructor and the ladies who worked with her were Mesdames W. J. Stone, Joe Hawkins, A. W. Dunn, William Brinkman, Archie Parker, C. L. Bullard. On that day 67 scultetus were made.

One of the guests who visited the Chapter during the day was Mrs. Barrett of the Los Angeles Chapter.

Workers on vests for aviators were pursuing their patriotic patchwork at the Red Cross workrooms last Friday under direction of Miss Griffith. Six new vests are nearing completion and they are works of art as samples of skillful needlework. Everybody is being asked to again go through stocks of cast-off kid gloves and any leather findings not in use and make them into bundles for this department of the Red Cross. It is tedious work but the vests are of the greatest value and much needed. The workers are therefore willing to continue but will not be able to do so long unless fresh supplies of leather are received.

Workers in the Surgical Dressings Department were under the instruction of Mrs. W. H. Boothby. They were Mesdames Stephen C. Packer, C. Verne Horner, George Whitaker, O. L. Papineau, M. E. Brode, S. F. Whitaker, Bert Ward, Fred Myton, R. F. Cullen, I. A. Flint, Charles A. Sanders, Meta Hearnshaw, A. B. Rosencrans. Forty-four scultetus were finished and 45 basted ready for stitching.

Mrs. A. L. Lawshe had charge of surgical dressings classes Monday. The ladies who worked under her were Mesdames C. Farnham, E. Dale, Harry A. Thimm, A. A. Burchfield, L. B. Munn, Eva Bolen, Claud Case, Lee Kaster, C. E. Hutton, Wm. J. Masak, Mrs. C. L. Hartley.

Knitted garments are coming in very satisfactorily and Mrs. Ezra Parker, chairman of knitting, reports that a shipment will be ready in a week or ten days.

Mrs. Blackburn was not at headquarters Monday. Her son has measles and she thought it best to stay at home and look after him for a day or two.

BULLY FOR RIDGELY!

Mrs. W. F. Miller, mother of Claude and Hearn Robinson of this city, has requested the publication of a most interesting report of Thrift Stamp patriotism in Tennessee which was published in the "Gazette" of Ridgely, Tennessee. The town has a population of about 1100 and is not far from Nashville. The clipping reads as follows:

"The big thrift stamp drive in Ridgely last Saturday was some success although there were no parades or anything of that kind. Business was suspended for one hour and all of the business houses closed as the people assembled in front of the Planters' Bank and Rev. H. W. Stigler delivered a telling message of about twenty minutes, after which Hon. Harvey Teague, in a few appropriate remarks, called for war savings subscriptions. After the smoke cleared away and the figures had been added up, it was found that $9,115 worth of stamps had been sold. The little 25c thrift stamps are getting to be as popular among the people of Ridgely and surrounding country as circus tickets. Almost everyone has a thrift card with a little green stamp on it. Even the kiddies are in the game and are teaching the elders lessons in thrift."

GARDEN SOCIETY TO MEET

The usual monthly meeting of the Garden Society, postponed from last week, will be held this coming Thursday, April 11, at the home of the president, Mrs. Nanno Woods. The work being done by the Society this year is of a specialized nature and the meetings, in view of the serious condition of the world, are no longer planned to be attractive social affairs. Earnest consideration of ways and means is now the order of the day and those members and friends attending the meetings come to put their best thought and brains into the subjects on hand. The special work on Thursday night will be to confer with Professor Houdyshel as to the most efficient means of handling the large amount of high-class named bulbs which he has presented in order to aid the Red Cross funds. All persons wishing to aid, either by advice or by personal work, are cordially urged to be present. Reports will also be listened to from the chairman of the Penny Seed Packet Committee, and from the Plant and Flower Committee now engaged in maintaining a special department in the Red Cross Shop.

At the same meeting the suggestion that the Society invest in a $50 Liberty Bond will be discussed. All interested are urged to be present and all members in good standing are urged to vote and put this patriotic suggestion through.

Meeting, Thursday evening, April 11, at 7:30 o'clock sharp, at 1222 Milford street.

WHY WE ARE AT WAR WITH GERMANY

By
EPHRAIM DOUGLASS ADAMS
Executive Head, History Department Leland Stanford Junior University

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government, which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry out the plan without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long-established practices and long-cherished principles of international action and honor; . . . This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. . . . It is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling."—President Wilson, August 27, 1917.

DEMOCRACY VERSUS AUTOCRACY

It is commonly said that this war is one in which America was forced to take part in order to "make the world safe for democracy." What does the phrase mean?

The theories and acts of the German military autocracy definitely deny the right of the people of a state to rule themselves. The German people, in spite of forms of government that make a pretense of popular control, have no such actual control over their governors as exists in democratically organized nations. In these nations the governors can be removed by a vote of the people in a general election; in Germany the people have not this power.

The aristocracy of Germany understand this difference, and are afraid of the spread of democracy in Germany. The whole, much-admired "efficiency" of Germany is primarily due to a desperate and constant effort by Germany's rulers to divert the German people from thoughts of self-government, by offering them material prosperity. And the rulers have succeeded. One of the causes of this war was the necessity, by still further "glorious acquisitions of territory," to hush the murmurings of political discontent in Germany. Victory in war, every so often, is a necessity of the German system. "It is for social as much as for national and political reasons that we must fix our minds incessantly upon war." "Success is necessary to gain influence over the masses," wrote Bernhardi; and General Von Bissing, just before his death, wrote a "Political Testament," since largely circulated in Germany, in which he argued for the retention of Belgium, because, unless it were annexed, the prestige of the military autocracy would receive a fatal blow.

Are we—are the Allies—then fighting to impose on Germany a different system; is that the meaning of "making the world safe for democracy?"

Elihu Root says that American ideals include "liberty not for themselves alone but for all who are oppressed." Lloyd George asserts that if all countries had been democratically organized, this war would not have taken place; that this war will determine not merely international relations, but will affect the lives of peoples within their own nations, for generations to come; that this war is to end in "international democracy," i. e., in liberty, equality, and fraternity, between nations, great and small. General Smuts, formerly a soldier against Great Britain in South Africa, says that the essence of this war is the question whether governments should be founded on military might or on "principles of equity, justice, fairness and equality."

Various writers have depicted this war as a test of democracy, to determine whether democracy can adjust itself to an emergency so that by sheer efficiency it shall at least equal the efficiency of a military autocracy, and assert that on this ground alone the future government of all the nations of the world is at stake. Will Crooks, the British labor leader, says this war "is a people's war. We are all in it, the man at the village pump and in the fields, the blacksmith, the carpenter and joiner, the shipwright, and the man of leisure. We are standing together because we are fighting for liberty."

Yes, this war is one in which ideals of government, of individual liberty, of civilization itself are in conflict. Democracy is lined up against autocracy. The war is in absolute fact a war of ideals. But we are not fighting to impose our ideals upon any nation. What we are fighting for in "making the world safe for democracy," is to prevent a military autocracy from imposing its authority and its ideals upon us. We are ready to keep on minding our own business, and to let other nations do the same. A military autocracy that proposes to conquer the world must be defeated, to the point where it renounces meddling with other nations, great or small, or there is no peace in the world. That is the issue at stake, and in it rests our safety and the safety of the world.

This is the fifth of a series of ten articles by Professor Adams.

BETTER BABIES

A very profitable and interesting meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Club was held at the home of Mrs. L. E. Richardson, corner of Brand and Gardena avenue last Thursday, at which Dr. Maude Wilde gave a talk upon "Better Babies." She described an instruction "Center" which was established some time ago at the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles, where a mother can take her child for examination and ascertain whether it is perfect and, if not, what if anything can be done to remedy defects. It is a splendid work which is doing much for both babies and mothers. The doctor cited as an illustration the case of a mother who brought a baby to the Center in the belief that it was perfect. The examining physicians found two or three things which were wrong, one being a slight curvature of the spine for which they could not account as the child appeared to be well and beautifully taken care of. Inquiry revealed its habit of sucking its toe. The mother was instructed to garb the legs of the child in a closed slip so it couldn't suck its toe, and also to gently massage the spine. The trouble was corrected and the boy was undoubtedly saved from serious physical disability.

Doctor Wilde explained that the United States is not going to endeavor to increase the population by following the methods of Germany, but that it is going to do so by taking better care of the babies we have. "When we lose 3000 men we think it a terrible calamity," she declared, "but we can lose 3000 babies in the United States and think nothing about it." The government, she said, has just inaugurated "Baby Year" in which a special effort is to be made to take care of and improve the babies in the United States.

The U. and I. club members were guests for the afternoon. Tea was served at the close of the program, Mesdames Edgar Fry and D. O. Martin pouring.

NEW THOUGHT

Dr. Frank L. Riley spoke on "The Kingdom of Heaven" at Masonic Temple, Sunday morning. He said, in part: One of the most important statements that Jesus ever made was "Seek ye first the kingdom of heaven and all these things shall be added unto you." We have ten parables—wonderful Bible stories—which explain where the kingdom is and how to seek it. One thing necessary to enter this kingdom you will find in John 3:3, "Except a man be born again, he can not see the kingdom of God," born spiritually, the soul's awakening, apart from the things of sense. Matt. 18:3. The child thought. In order to become as little children we must conquer pride, selfishness, etc. This does not mean weakness. We can be kind, loving and true without being weak and submitting to conditions which are unjust. Parents are often unjust to themselves by doing too much for their children as well as too little, thus destroying their self-respect. Destroy balance and you destroy harmony. Again, Jesus says, John 18:36: "My kingdom is not of this world." So long as you base anything dependent on this world or matter, you will come to naught. In this time of war, we should realize more than ever that we must love much, have peace and harmony within our souls, while we go on fighting and giving all that we have. Without that thought of truth in consciousness we are unable to pray aright. We will become confused and retreat in fear.

In First Corinthians 4:20 we read "For the kingdom of God is not in word but in power." In the kingdom we do the best work when God works through us as a channel; we use God's power, not our own. I was glad to read what President Wilson said in his speech at Baltimore, "The war must cost our utmost sacrifice, the lives of our fittest men and, if need be, all that we possess." Though the door of sacrifice, for righteousness, we enter the kingdom, thereby gaining justice and eternal riches. Luke 18:29, 30. This is what Emerson called "Compensation." If we pass on, who will be the richest? Those who have loved the things of the soul, the beautiful; those who, after sacrificing all for a just and righteous cause, can still find happiness and enjoy a crust of bread because they live in a right and peaceful state of consciousness. Forgiveness is another entrance to the kingdom. Matt. 18: 23, 27, 33. To get the real meaning of the essence of the soul read the 23d Psalm. Love is the key to the kingdom. Lose love and you lose all. In spite of all differences do not hate. The kingdom of heaven is within us. Luke 17:21. It is at hand. Seek it. You do not have to die to find it.

NITROGEN FROM COAL

If all the coal now coked in this country were coked in modern retort ovens, which enable the saving of the by-product nitrogen, a supply of ammonium sulphate containing about 20 per cent of readily available nitrogen, amounting to nearly 900,000 tons, would be produced annually, say specialists in a separate from the 1917 Yearbook of the United States Department of Agriculture. This would go a long way toward supplying the unprecedented demand for nitrogen which is taxing the resources of the world.

There is a small percentage of nitrogen in all coal. When coal is burned in the bee-hive type of oven, this nitrogen escapes into the air. When the modern type of retort ovens are used, the nitrogen is recovered as a by-product combined with hydrogen in the form of ammonia. When treated with sulphuric acid, ammonium sulphate results, which is an important fertilizer ingredient. It is used largely in the preparation of mixed fertilizers, but in view of its solubility it could probably be advantageously used as a substitute for sodium nitrate as a top dressing, the specialists say.

The old house at the junction of Cypress and Glendale avenues, adjoining Dramfield's store, has been moved away and will be replaced with an up-to-date bungalow.

Mrs. W. A. Burns of 16 Piedmont Park and her guest, Mrs. I. B. Smith of Warsaw, N. Y., spent the week-end with Mrs. Burns' sister, Miss Mary Austin of Los Angeles.

Al Moniot, who went to Fort Scott, San Francisco, to take training to fit himself to become an electrician, writes that he is well and getting along nicely with his work.

William Esterly of Camp Wadsworth, Spartansburg, S. C., is enjoying a twenty-one day furlough which he is spending with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Esterly, 800 Adams street.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Crocker of 121 Cedar street have leased their home for a year and Mr. Crocker has gone east. Mrs. Crocker will spend about a month visiting friends and then will join him.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sholes of 1514 West Broadway are the happy parents of a third son, born last Tuesday. Their oldest son, five years old, named the new baby John Mather. Mother and child are doing well.

There is every indication that the Red Cross benefit card parties to be given Friday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, 101 South Orange street, will be great successes. Tickets are now on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guernsey, former residents of this city, have returned from Arizona and are now on West Park avenue at the home of Thomas Harrison, father of Mrs. Guernsey. They report exceedingly hot weather in Arizona.

In response to complaints, the police of the city are getting after offenders against the dog ordinance which bars the keeping of more than two dogs to a family. Two or three parties in the south part of the city were found to have colonies of eight to a dozen dogs.

A delegation of 150 members of the Tropico Methodist Church expects to attend the patriotic meeting at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles next Sunday when Bishop A. D. Leonard and Bishop Stuntz will make addresses and Ellen Beach Yaw will sing, supported by a chorus of 100 voices.

Mrs. Vernon Cowsert has among her prized possessions a pretty little silk flag which was made by a niece of Betsy Ross who had the credit of making the first flag for the United States of America. Mrs. Cowsert's flag bears 13 stars embroidered on a field of blue. She plans to take it to Red Cross headquarters some day to exhibit to the workers there.

Ed White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, and one of Glendale's soldier boys, was in the hospital for several days, where he underwent an operation for removal of ingrowing toenail. He is now out of the hospital and his parents hoped he would be with them last Sunday when they celebrated the 28th anniversary of their wedding. It was also the birthday of Mr. White's mother and the anniversary of the wedding day of Mrs. White's mother.

Riley Proctor of 414½ Orange underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Glendale Sanitarium Monday afternoon. His many friends will be glad to know that he is getting along nicely.

Dwight Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson of Central avenue, who is now at Camp Kearny, though still with the 158th Infantry, has been assigned to duty at the Base Hospital. He likes his work very much and is feeling and looking well. His father and mother visited the camp last Sunday.

Mrs. P. A. Wells of 328 South Maryland avenue has received word of the death of her grandfather, Cornelius Snyder, at the age of 92 years, 9 months and 21 days, at Port Byron, March 24th. He was born in Bath, Maryland, and died of old age. He was the last of eight children and for 60 years made his home at Port Byron. For twenty years before his death he was blind. He came of good old vigorous pioneer stock and grew up in the mountains of Pennsylvania.

Neil Wells of 328 South Maryland avenue, who is with the 8th Cavalry, Presidio, Texas, has just received a promotion and an increase of pay on account of good marksmanship. He expects to be called to the French front almost any time. Not long ago he sent to his mother a curious old Mexican gun which he picked up across the border, when his troop was sent across a few months ago. It is an object of great interest to everyone who has seen it.

MEETING POSTPONED

It was planned to hold another patriotic meeting at the High School Thursday evening of this week. This meeting has been postponed until further notice. We will probably have the pleasure of hearing him at some later date.

This is going to be a real treat for the Glendale Lodge and a record attendance is expected.

MAJESTY OF THE LAW

(By Samuel Parker)

Ex-President W. H. Taft is a big man in other respects than avoirdupois, but never did he appear to better advantage than the other day when, in an address at Muskogee, Oklahoma, he hurled his heaviest anathemas at the enemies of our institutions which, on slightest occasions or none at all, assume the functions of law and in a spirit of lawlessness usurp the duties of juries, judges, courts and all those safeguards so wisely provided for the welfare of social order, and proceed to administer punishment on persons outside of due process of law, and of which the persons may have been positively innocent. Against this process the ex-president raises his clarion voice in language not easily misunderstood, and it should be heard (and heeded) throughout the land.

"Spies should be courtmartialed, lined up and their citizenship ended by bullets; those who express treasonable sentiments should be tried and punished, but in all cases law should be obeyed and mob violence such as practiced in certain parts of the United States should be everywhere condemned, that the United States may not sink to the lawless savagery of the Germans."

These are words of wisdom and when he calls attention to the prevalence of the mob violence so common in the United States as so dangerous and so forceful in degrading our own country to a level below the savagery of the Germans, it ought to startle all thinking citizens with the thought as to whether the attempt to cure German sympathy with mobocratic medicine is not likely to prove in its effect on the public mind a case in which the remedy is as dangerous as the disease. Taft's declaration that "Spies should be lined up and shot," is certainly summary enough to meet all reasonable requirements of even war with the Kaiser. And his treatment of German sympathizers who express treasonable sentiments should be swift and severe, but in all cases the law should be evoked to do the work. It is not the business of a mob in a land where law is supreme and so easily set in motion. The mob in its attempt to administer punishment becomes itself an active agency to all the best interests of society. These can only be conserved by the omnipotence of law. Every citizen should help put law on the throne and hold it there as a guaranty of the best things that can come to us in a free country.

RED CROSS STORE

New stock at the Red Cross Store at 318 Brand boulevard includes two fine boy's books by Sidney Lanier, "The Boy's Froissarts" and "The Boy's Mabinoglon." They are beautifully illustrated and printed and when new bring $2.50 per volume. The shop is offering them for $1 each.

During the month of March the shop earned $80.26.

Miss Maybelle Douglas, chairman of the shop, is asking for copies of the Century, Harpers, Scribners, etc., no matter how old. She can find a use for them.

Next Saturday the shop will have a produce sale of lemons, beans and any other garden truck brought in.

Quite an income is being derived from the flower and plant department which also makes an attractive window. Ernest Pomeroy gave Miss Douglas a beautiful camelia for the shop Monday morning and she sold it on the way down to Mr. Wolf for 50 cents.

OPEN WEDNESDAYS

The headquarters of the Relief Committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and the P.-T. A. Federation, at 1208 Broadway, will be open tomorrow (Wednesday) from 2 to 6 o'clock and every Wednesday thereafter. Persons who have donations or any one in need of assistance of any kind, are requested to call there between the hours named on Wednesday. There is special need for boys' clothing.

MRS. E. S. McKEE, Chairman.

SALVAGE SALES

The Pacific avenue school conducted the salvage drive last Saturday and did a fine job.

Salvage sales recently made by Miss Douglas include $21.03 for paper, $42.71 for bottles, metal junk, etc. The junk represents the accumulations of several months. There will be a sale of bottles before long, as the High School has about 2000 bottles accumulated in a drive.

BRIDGE WHIST LUNCHEON

Mrs. G. D. Roach of 1428 Lomita avenue gives a three-course luncheon today to eight guests, all from Los Angeles except Mrs. A. H. Lapham of West Broadway, this city. The table will be spread with a beautiful lace luncheon set and ragged robin roses will be used in decoration. Bridge whist and music will furnish the diversions of the afternoon.

Seniors of the Santa Monica High school have voted to do away with the publication of the school annual, the Nautilus, this year, in order that the sum usually devoted to that end may be given to the Red Cross and other funds for the welfare of our soldiers. The sum spent on the Nautilus usually amounts to between $500 and $600. It is possible that some of the next issue of Liberty bonds will be purchased with part of this money.

RICE AND MALARIA

Eighty-four thousand acres of rice were harvested in California during 1917 and it would appear now that there will be an increase of 40 per cent in the acreage devoted to rice culture this year. Since 95 per cent of California rice is raised in the Sacramento Valley, this means that our malaria and mosquito problem will become of greater importance than ever before, says the March Bulletin of the State Board of Health. The most favorable conditions for the production of rice and for the breeding of malaria-bearing mosquitoes, it declares, are identical and as yet no effective method of mosquito control, without injury to the growing rice, has been developed. The extermination of mosquitoes in the average community can be accomplished easily. The problem in the rice fields will, no doubt, find a solution. Considerable experimental work is being undertaken which may soon result in a new method of meeting this aggravating problem.

WHITTIER'S EFFICIENT OFFICIAL

Whittier is bragging, with apparently good reason, over the efficiency of its street superintendent. After telling of the excellent way in which he cares for the city's 37 miles of streets, the Whittier News says:

"Perfecting efficiency in his working force, however, is not Superintendent Stevens' only form of exceptional service. He is continually on the look out to descry means for economizing, and he is remarkably successful.

"A big economy is achieved in the huge brooms with which the streets are swept. The standard price for refilling a broom is $25, and that is the price which other cities pay for the renovating of their sweeping equipment.

"John Stevens, however, thought he saw a place where he could save considerable sums and he started an investigation. After persistent efforts he obtained access to the shops in which the brooms are professionally filled and there he gained an idea of the process. He found that the materials for a broom cost $7 and that $18 was exacted for assembling them.

"Whittier's superintendent drew a little sketch of the apparatus and at small expense had a simple rig erected. Now a Los Angeles firm loses $18 every time one of the city's brooms is refilled—a process that must be repeated several times a year—and that $18 remains in the city treasury.

"The brooms filled by John Stevens' crew are not only several hundred per cent cheaper than the professionally filled brooms, but they also last considerably longer.

SEA GULLS AS SCAVENGERS

As a sea scavenger, the California gull is well known, but few people realize that this bird is an accomplished inland scavenger as well. Not only do gulls clean up refuse, garbage, dead fish and offal on land and water, but they also render important service to agriculturists by destroying insect and rodent pests, says a recent bulletin of the State Board of Health. In 1907-08 they deserted their haunts on the Great Salt Lake to rid the Nevada alfalfa fields of field mice which threatened to destroy the crops. They lived in the alfalfa fields and in the adjoining fields until they had completed the work. Many years ago they rendered a like service to the state of Utah, through the destruction of grasshoppers which were laying waste the Utah grain fields. In remembrance of this service the people of Utah have erected a monument to the sea gulls, at a cost of $40,000, in one of the parks of Salt Lake City.

Several years ago, when the Oakland city garbage was dumped in the ocean outside the heads, large quantities of this waste were washed ashore. Were it not for the gulls this would have caused a great nuisance along the beaches, but these efficient birds kept the beaches clean.

When the large suction dredgers began operations on the east bay shore near Oakland, in the reclamation of hundreds of acres of tide lands, large quantities of mussels and clams were brought up. The dredgers had hardly begun their work before sea gulls in large numbers appeared. How these birds learned of the new food supply that was being sucked up from the bottom of the bay, none can tell. They swarmed about the outlet pipe by hundreds, scrambling for the clams and mussels that were poured out with the mud, sand and water. Since the beaks of sea gulls are not designed for crushing purposes, they were unable to break the hard clam shells. The birds are very resourceful, however, and they were observed flying to a height of thirty or forty feet, dropping the clams on the rocks until the shells were broken. One bird was seen to thus drop a clam fifteen times before breaking the shell.

At the last Christmas bird census under the auspices of the National Audubon Society, local observers in San Francisco between the hours of 8:30 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. noted 15,000 gulls from Golden Gate Park to Lake Merced, a distance of less than three miles. This gives an indication of the large numbers of these scavengers on our coasts, and since ten of them are equal to a pig, according to Wm. L. Finley, the Pacific Coast ornithologist, it is obvious that our beaches, waterfronts and bay shores would be in filthy condition were it not for the gulls.

There is plenty of waste material for these birds, without resorting to the philanthropic work of feeding them from the ferry boats. Some people, in these days of food conservation, make a practice of filling their pockets with bread, which they throw to the gulls. It is enjoyable to watch these perfect aviators swoop down upon a choice morsel of bread, but it is not in accordance with the food-saving requirements of today.

There has been some discussion relative to the gathering of sea birds' eggs for the market, because of the high price of hen's eggs. While the eggs of sea birds are said to be palatable, to gather them for commercial purposes would undoubtedly result in the extermination of gulls.
